10-6-4t.HE JUST HATED SLANG.

"Just to show how much averse to slang he was, a small boy in a Chicago school explained to the teacher one day that he had been walking with a friend, but neglected to take off his hat when they met a lady both knew. His friend had nudged him and whispered: "Take off your lid, you simp."

"What he should have said," explained the boy, "was 'Remove your hat, you nut!'"

The general sentiment is summed up in the words of a small boy, who ventured this:

"Anyway, it's only roughnecks who use slang nowadays."—National Tribune.

RHEUMATISM AND ALLIED PAINS
—THEY MUST GO.

The congestion of the blood in its flow causes pain. Sloan's Liniment penetrates to the congestion and starts the blood to flow freely. The body's warmth is renewed; the pain is gone. The "man or woman who has rheumatism, neuralgia or other pain and fails to keep Sloan's Liniment in their home is like a drowning man refusing rope." Why suffer. Get a bottle of Sloan's. 25c and 50c. $1.00 bottle holds six times as much as 25c size. 3.

PREACHER SPECULATOR.

Brooklyn, the "City of Churches," is greatly distressed over the plight of its famous pulpit orator, Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, whose British Columbia lumber speculation turned out so disastrously that he is $100,000 in debt, with a libel suit on his hands for saying that he embarked on the scheme to help his nephews.

The preacher's expression of penitence for walking on a lower plane than that which he pictured with such eloquence has won back many who were disposed to condemn, and others are waiting to see just in what light the threatened libel suit places the successor of Henry Ward Beecher, whose troubles are now being repaired after many years of repose in the limbo of forgotten things.

A PINE WHOOPING COUGH REMEDY.

Mothers, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is just the remedy for your children's cold ailments. The fact is that pine is a quick enemy of cold conditions. Its qualities loosen the mucous in the throat, soothe the lungs and open up the air passages. The combination of honey, soothing and pleasant, with the loosening pine quality makes this an ideal cough remedy for children. Each passing year brings for it, new friends. A family of growing children cannot afford to be without it. 25c a bottle. 3

NAMED FOR GEN. SHERMAN.

Sherman, Wyo., so named in honor of Gen. W. F. Sherman, is the highest point in the Laramie Range reached by the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is claimed that from this point on a clear day may be seen Pikes Peak, about 165 miles to the south; Longs Peak, 60 miles to the south; and Elk Mountain, 100 miles to the west.

HOW AN ENGINEER KEEPS WELL.

Railroad engineers are more exposed to catching cold than other workers. E. G. Dunaphant of Monette, Mo., has run a Frisco engine 25 years and all the medicine he has taken is Foley's Honey and Tar. He writes: "I always keep it in my house and recommend it to all who have a bad cough or cold." For sale by Reed & Burnett.

THIRD BALKAN WAR.

It Seems in Sight, but no One can Tell if it Will Come.

Official announcement made by the Bulgarian government regarding the general mobilization of the Bulgarian army did not surprise Washington and New York political circles.

About three weeks ago a rumor was current in Washington that Bulgaria was going to join the Teutonic allies and New York knew of the pro-Teutonic attitude of official Bulgaria since the middle of June.

No body in New York doubts that the move of the Bulgarian government means the third Balkan war—that is really a continuation of the second Balkan war. But it is not yet known whether the non-Slavonic Balkan nation, Roumania and Greece, will join the third Balkan war or whether they will prefer to be neutral.

For the time being the Servian allegation that there exists a treaty between Servia and Greece, concluded after the treaty of Bucharest, according to which Greece is bound to come to the aid of Servia in case of a Bulgarian attack, is not taken very seriously in diplomatically informed circles.

It is moreover pointed out that on account of differences of opinion as to the partition of Macedonia between Servia and Greece, Athens and Belgrade are not on the very best terms.

It is further pointed out that Bulgaria would never dare to make such a move as she does now, if she had to fear the immediate intervention of Greece or Roumania. Bulgaria is joining the Teutonic allies and Turkey not so much because she is in love with these powers, but simply because she is anxious to recover her losses in the second Balkan war, i. e., to annex the Bulgarian part of Macedonia.

The Bulgarian government had good reasons to believe that Servia would compensate the Bulgarian neutrality with that part of Macedonia that is being claimed by Bulgaria, but in spite of the pressure brought to bear on the Servian government by the Allies, Servia refused to give in—moreover she declared that she would comply with the Bulgarian claims on the condition that if she does not emerge victoriously from this war, Bulgaria should hand over again to Servia the Macedonian territory.

This condition Bulgaria refused to accept, because the Bulgarians seemingly do not believe that the Allies will win and that Servia will emerge from the war victoriously.

Besides, the Bulgarian government had to take into consideration the feeling of revenge cherished by the Bulgarian people against Servia, and also, the fact that the russophile party in Bulgaria, of which Dr. Danef and Dr. Geshoff, both former premiers, were the leaders, is absolutely dead, while the so-called pro-Austrian party is in power.

The present party in power makes Russia responsible for the outcome of the second Balkan war that was so humiliating to the Bulgarians.

Mr. Radoslawow and his colleagues maintain that the treaty of Bucharest was really dictated in St. Petersburg and that the Russian government was able to prevent the humiliating of Bulgaria by bringing pressure to bear upon the Servian and Greek governments.

The Bulgarians say that Russia preferred Servia because she did not consider the Bulgarians are real Slavs and thus did not expect them to follow a strict Russian policy in the Balkans.

In short, since Russia is considered by the Bulgarians as their arch enemy, and as France and England followed a strictly Russian policy in the Balkans, those two powers are also considered as being enemies of Bulgaria.

These are the reasons why Bulgaria, after a long period of watchful attitude, has taken definite steps to make good now what she lost two years ago.

LET 'EM WORK.

An anti-suffragist writes to the Brooklyn Eagle, New York, her views why women should not vote. They are about as fool reasons as antis usually give. The anti lady says:

"Take child-labor. Who kicks up all the row about that? Not men, certainly. No. Suffragettes. Children are perfectly comfortable working in canneries. Those who work in the canneries come from a class of people who are accustomed to labor hard, who have nothing, and if their children don't work in the canneries they would probably starve to death."

Then take all this rot about working girls. They get far more now than they are worth in the way of wages. They were perfectly satisfied to work ten hours a day for 10 cents an hour until the suffragettes came along and stirred them up."

HOW TO BE EFFICIENT. Nothing saps the vitality like kidney trouble. It causes backache, headache, stiff joints, sore muscles, "always tired" feeling, rheumatism and other ills. To be efficient, you must be healthy. Foley Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys, help them do their work of filtering out from the system the waste matter that causes the trouble. THE LIGHT METAL.

Such Is Aluminum Called, but It Is Very Strong and Useful in Many Ways.

Aluminum is the most abundant of all the metals. In the form of its oxide, aluminum, it, constitutes about 15 per cent of the earth's crust, according to the United States Geological Survey.

Yet until recent years it was a curiosity; there were only a few hundred or a few thousand pounds in existence, and its value was $14 or $15 a pound.

Within a generation it has become very useful, now selling at about 20 cents a pound. The entry of aluminum into the field of useful metals came with the discovery that it could be extracted from the mineral bauxite, a claylike substance.

This mineral itself is by no means plentiful, but known deposits are sufficient to make aluminum an important competitor of certain metals, such as copper and tin, in a good many lines of work.

Already aluminum has displaced steel in certain classes of construction where strength is required in combination with extreme lightness, such as in the manufacture of flying machines.

An alloy known as duralumin, containing about 95 per cent of aluminum, is claimed to have qualities as good as those of good Bessemer steel, although it is only one-third as heavy. This alloy possesses great hardness when annealed, and its melting point is above 1,200 degrees F. The great future of aluminum lies in the perfection of a process whereby it can be commercially extracted from the unlimited deposits of alumina—rich clays and rocks, which exist in all parts of the world.

The day which shall yield really cheap aluminum holds out boundless possibilities. The chemist or investigator who can devise the needed process of extraction will not be forgotten by succeeding generations.
